ST. JOHN HEALTH SYSTEM GIVES BACK.

“WHERE YOUR TREASURE IS, THERE YOUR HEART WILL BE ALSO.”

– Matthew 6:21

Total estimated three-year cost of care for the poor

$178 Million

An average of more than

$78 Million in cost of total community benefit each year

Total three-year cost of community benefit provided by St. John Health System

$235 Million

Since 1926, St. John Health System has held a tradition of giving back. Over the last three years*, we’ve provided an average of more than $59 million per year in care for persons living in poverty measured by our cost of care. We’re also investing in the future health of Oklahoma, with a yearly average of more than $18 million contributed by St. John to support medical education programs to train doctors, nurses and other medical professionals, and to support other community benefit activities. It’s all part of our firm belief that the health of a community begins with a heart for giving.

Investing in our fellow man is an honor.

To learn more about how St. John gives back to the local community, visit stjohnhealthsystem.com/giving

*2012-2014. St. John Health System follows the guidance of the U.S. Catholic Health Association and Internal Revenue Service to estimate the cost of community benefit. St. John does not include bad debt, shortfalls in difference between payment for and cost of service to Medicare beneficiaries, payment of property, sales, use, income, payroll and other taxes, or the considerable economic value provided to local communities in which it operates as components of community benefit.